

Workplace Values Inventory Certification

Understand your people's motivational drivers with the Workplace Values Inventory (WVI) certification. Designed for corporate trainers, leaders, HR professionals, and performance coaches, this program equips you to help people understand what drives them and what is most important for them in the work they do.

Get Certified

During the self-paced, online certification program, you will:

- Learn how values underpin our decisions and drive motivation
- Learn how to undertake a 'values' conversation to uncover key motivational drives
- Complete a one-to-one coaching session with an experienced facilitator
- Learn how to facilitate workshops that demonstrate the power of our personal values and help leaders tap into their people's motivation
- Gain access to ongoing, post-certification support
